

REMINDERS:

More revisions or clarifications can be expected as the Commission issues rulings and interpretations in specific cases. INTV will revise the Primer as necessary to assure that independent stations have access to up-to-date information on the Commission's children's television rules.

The Primer necessarily presents information in a general fashion. Stations, therefore, should not hesitate to contact their counsel to obtain advice concerning application of rules to specific station situations and circumstances.